All thatxxx was yesterday. It is 10 a.m. on a new and different day, and I've already knocked out a 4,000 word piece proving that what LIFE really bought from Zapruder was the right to suppress his film, that they did suppress it, and that the government couldn't be happier- and why.

Now I go to Washington to have a molar yanked. When I return I'll read and edit it, waiting to hear from no one who will publish it.

I tell you, Jonn, we got the best goddamned Constitution in the world, guaranteeing, as it does (in t the original and by now somehat yellowed version to which I adhere) unlimited freedom of speech and of the press. Nothing like freedom.

Someday it will again be other freedoms than that to assassinate.
